Families in Art Museums: TAKE-HOME QUESTIONNAIRE

Thank you for speaking with us at the Frist Center for the Visual Arts. We really enjoyed learning about your experiences at ArtQuest. We look forward to including your opinions in this part of the study as well.

This questionnaire should take about 15 minutes. Once you have completed and returned it in the prepaid stamped envelope, you will be entered in a monthly raffle for a $100 American Express Gift Card. We ask that you complete and mail this questionnaire within one week.

If you have any questions about this study or problems completing the questionnaire, please contact Jessica Luke at artmuseumresearch@ilinet.org.

BEFORE YOU BEGIN, THINGS TO CONSIDER:

We want to know more about what visitors value the interactive galleries in art museums, such as the ArtQuest. As you complete this questionnaire, please keep in mind four very important points:

❖ Focus only on your visit to ArtQuest...

NOT the entire museum or other programs that happen in the museum when you were there. We are trying to understand what is valuable only about ArtQuest.

❖ Focus on the group that came with you to ArtQuest that day...

when you answered the first part of the study. We understand that your experiences in ArtQuest may change depending on who is visiting the gallery with you.

❖ Focus on what YOU think is valuable...

rather than what your child or other adults in your group may think is valuable. We cannot study everyone's opinions at the same time and we are really interested in what you, as an adult and caregiver, think.

❖ Try to discern what is more or less valuable for you.

When reading the questions, it may be tempting to tell us that everything is valuable. But if you think about the different activities your group does together, you likely value different experiences in different ways. What is valuable about going to a state park is likely different from what is valuable about going to ArtQuest.

In the following questions, you will be asked to tell us what you think is most valuable about a visit to ArtQuest.

First, we will ask you what you think is valuable to your child(ren). Then, we will ask what is valuable to you. Finally, we will ask what is valuable for your group together.

Please circle the appropriate rating, on a scale from 1 to 7, where 1 is "Not at all what I value about the space" and 7 is "All that I value about the space."

Thinking back on your visit to the museum that day...

How did your experience in ArtQuest influence you in the rest of the museum, in terms of what you did or how you felt in the other galleries?

Since your visit to the museum that day...

Please describe a conversation you have had with other people specifically about your visit to ArtQuest. What did you talk about, and with whom?

Is there anything else you would like to share with us about your group's experience at ArtQuest?

As a thank-you for participating in this study, would you like to enter our monthly drawing for a $100 American Express Gift Card?
